MADISON COUNTY, OHIO - Recently received a very cute and informative little booklet (50 pages) which will be of interest and aid to those with a genealogical interest in this county. It is entitled, "Odds and Ends Picked Up From Remote Corners and Cubbyholes of History Throughout Madison County", and is published by the Madison County Historical Society, P. O. Box 124, London, Ohio 43140. There are many items of genealogical nature packed into this booklet including a map showing the names and locations of cemeteries in the county. A list is also given of the cemeteries for which tombstone inscriptions have been recorded and the location where these records have been placed. Price is $1.25 and may be ordered from the society at the address given above.

BROWN COUNTY, OHIO - Mr. Carl N. Thompson has been keeping us advised of the progress in the preparation of HISTORICAL COLLECTIONS OF BROWN COUNTY, OHIO which he is compiling; being the first new county history since 1883. The book now (November) being re-typed and proofed, will be professionally printed by the photo-offset method in library hard cloth cover; and will consist of approximately 1300 pages, fully indexed, priced $17.50 (including Ohio Sales Tax and prepaid delivery). The value of this book can best be exemplified by mentioning a few of the items listed in the Table of Contents, as follows:

Chapter I History of Brown County, Ohio - Organization, Early Settlers in the County, Township Histories, Zanes Trace, The Elk River Trail etc.
Chapter II Histories of the Settlements, Towns and Villages
Chapter III Schools and Education - Index to the Heads of Families by name, and the number of school children each had in the 1830 census; 1640 names
Chapter IV The Ohio, Waterway to the West and South
Chapter V General Coverage
Chapter VI Court House Records - Index to the 1819 Brown Co. Tax List; Index to First 10 Yrs. Marriages, 2750 names; Index to Wills, books 1 and 2 (1818-1851); Index to Early Brown County Deaths as reported by local newspapers
Chapter VII Family Histories
Chapter VIII Prominent Persons
Chapter IX Military History
Chapter X Churches and Religion
Chapter XI Cemeteries and Obituaries - Cemeteries of Brown County (courthouse records); Beasley Family Cemetery; Old Georgetown; Thomas Cemetery; Obituaries 1878-1913

Mr. Thompson states that he hopes to have the book in the printer's office by January 1969. Orders or inquiries concerning this book should be directed to:
Mr. Carl N. Thompson, 410 Catherine Street, Ripley, Ohio 45167

IMPORTANT NOTICE - Please note my change of address to:- Anita Short, Rural Route 1, Arcanum, Ohio 45304. Although any mail directed to the old Greenville address is being transferred to a Post Office Box for the next few months, it will be an enormous assistance to me and expedite the efficiency of regulating the incoming mail, if the new address is used from this date.

HOW OHIO COUNTIES GOT THEIR NAMES
(Date in parenthesis is year county was created)

Adams (1797), named for President John Adams, during whose administration the county was organized.
Allen (1820), named for Ethan Allen, Revolutionary War hero.
Ashtabula (1808), named for the Ashtabula River. "Ashtabula" is an Indian word meaning "Fish River."
Athens (1805), site of the first institution of higher learning west of the Allegheny mountains and named for Athens, Greece.
Auglaize (1848), named for the Auglaize River. "Auglaize" is an Indian word meaning "fallen timbers."
Belmont (1801), comes from the French words "belle monte", meaning beautiful mountain. It is descriptive of the high, rugged hills.
Washington County, Ohio was one of the four original counties of the Northwest Territory.

Note: Further information regarding most of these soldiers can be found in the three "OHIO DAR ROSTERS OF SOLDIERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION", published in 1929, 1938 and 1959.
Stephen W. Reeder was a town clerk in Xenia, Greene County, Ohio, in 1829, when he taught school there. Among the papers of Kathryn Hunter of Norwalk, Connecticut, are some of his records of the 14th District of Xenia Township for 1828-1829. He was commissioned major of the First Regiment, First Brigade, Fifth Division, Ohio Militia, by Col. Robert Mercer 12 September 1831 at Fairfield, Greene County, Ohio. Reeder left Xenia by 1835 when he gave twenty-four lectures at the Logansport (Ind.) Academy. Later he moved with his father-in-law, Andrew Larew, to Cincinnati, where a Stephen Reeder was a viewer of enclosures and appraiser of damage in 1793. (History of Cincinnati by Henry A. and Mrs. Kate B. Ford, 1881)

Abraham Larew, a descendant of Abraham Larue of Mannheim, Germany, Ulster County, New York, Staten Island, New York, and Hopewell, New Jersey, where his estate was inventoried 8 January 1711/12, married 11 October 1804 Elizabeth, daughter of Capt. David and Jean (Buchanan) Douglass of Chanceford, York County, Pennsylvania. They had five sons, Henry, Lewis, Silas, James, David and five daughters, Matilda, Eliza, Diana, Mira, and Phebe. So far, the first name of Stephen Reeder's wife has not been found.

Miss Hunter allowed the author to copy several records which name many Xenia residents. The papers are numbered as follows:

1. Articles of agreement dated 19 July 1828 between Robert Nesbitt, Jonathan Seaman, and George Jobs, school directors of District Fourteen, and undersigned subscribers for an English school for one quarter. Stephen W. Reeder was authorized to collect sums annexed to the names marked "A".

2. Undated list of students whose names are followed by sums of money presumably owed to Mr. Reeder.

3. Similar list with most names followed by "English Grammar".

4. Articles of agreement dated 4 November 1828 between Stephen W. Reeder and William Ellsberry and James Galloway, Jr., Reeder agrees to teach the children of Ellsberry, Galloway, and others not to exceed ten. Galloway will loan a pair of globes, while Reeder must furnish room, fuel, and "every contingent expense". Ellsberry and Galloway will each pay $25. Reeder is to have "every Saturday in the week to himself."

5. Names of householders in District 14, Xenia, 11 November 1828 signed by Jonathan Seaman, Robert Nesbitt, and George Job.

6. Articles of agreement dated 5 December 1828 for a night school for a term of sixty nights from six to nine. Reeder is to furnish room, fuel, seats, writing tables, while parents pay $2 and furnish candles.

Capt. David Douglass married (2) Eliza Reay 1 May 1806, lived in Xenia in 1810 (Robinson), moved to Logansport, where he died August, 1839.

7. Trustees' meeting 2 March 1829 to settle with supervisors and other township officers. Present: Abraham Larew, William Currie, and James Galloway, Jr.

The names taken from these papers are followed by numbers corresponding to the preceding list. The figures following "5" show the place of the householder list.

* Capt. David Douglass, who lived in Xenia in 1810, according to George F. Robinson in History of Greene County, 1902, had a son David born 23 April 1790.

 Robinson ibid. says that John Gowdy, Scotch Irish, was born in Connecticut, 1747, died 1814, married Abigail Ryan, who died in 1838. He came to Greene County in 1809, settled two miles west of Xenia. Children: James, Samuel, Jane, Martha, Mary, Robert, John, Alex, Abigail, Ryan, and Sarah.

 Dist. 20, $5.20 as superintendent... also plank for a bridge, "a crop Shawney"
Among the earliest of the famous Ohio inns was HEADLEY INN built in 1802 near Zanesville on the National Road. Nearby, but located on Zane's Trace as it swings south of National Road, is the FIVE MILE HOUSE, built in 1830. Still in use is the GOLDEN LAMB at Lebanon which opened in 1816. OUR HOUSE, the famous inn at Gallipolis was built in 1819. Other famous inns are BUXTON TAVERN in Granville, the RED BRICK TAVERN in Lafayette, the RYDERS TAVERN in Painesville, and the DUNHAM TAVERN in Cleveland.

The last part of Ohio to be occupied was the "Black Swamp" region near Toledo, which had to be drained before settlement. These lands were donated by the National government to Ohio in 1850 under an agreement that the state reclaim and drain these lands. Millions of acres of such lands were donated in various states in the Mississippi Valley, but Ohio only received 25,640 acres. In 1833 a law was passed by the Ohio General Assembly placing all of the receipts from the sale of the Swamp Lands to the credit of the common schools of the state. The Swamp Lands were tracts chiefly in Ottawa, Wood, and Sandusky counties.

Ohio University, located at Athens, is the oldest higher institution of learning in that part of our country known as the "Old Northwest."

In most instances, when a person died he (or she) would leave some form of worldly goods either in personal property (furniture, livestock, etc.) and/or real estate. In a few instances, an elderly person may have disposed of all personal and real property; then being completely dependent upon children, other relatives or the county.

The deceased person may have left a will which directed the disposition of personal and/or real property to the heirs, along with naming an executor to see that the wishes were carried out. When a person died intestate (without leaving a will) the court appointed an administrator or administrators whose task was to handle the affairs of the estate, eventually bringing about a final settlement which met the approval of the court. The following records are found in the Probate Court.

WILLS

The Will Books contain a transcript of the original document along with the proceedings concerning the recording of the will. The original document usually being filed in an individual packet or in a packet with other papers concerning the estate. The system of filing the original document varies with the individual counties and in some the original may no longer be in existence.

The testator may not necessarily name all his heirs in his will, therefore a check of the estate packet may give information regarding additional heirs. The proceedings concerning the recording of the will should also be read thoroughly, as the widow may be named if not previously named in the will, also a codicil may have been added which could give further information.

ADMINISTRATION OF INTESTATE ESTATES

Estate packets of intestate estates are usually kept by a system of numbered cases in metal files. Depending on the system used, additional information may also be found in Testamentary Books and Appearance Dockets.

The first procedure in the administration of an estate is the posting of bond and appointment of the administrator(s) by the court. The date of the bond is very important, as this date usually follows the death date by just a few days. If a wife survives her husband and does not take part in administering the estate, there may be a deposition relinquishing her right to do so.

The estate packet also includes an appraisal of personal property and if necessary a portion may be set off for the support of a widow and/or minor children. The remainder of the personal property usually being sold at public auction, if so, a list of persons purchasing items is given.

The administrator is required to give one or more (if necessary) accountings of the estate proceedings. The accounting shows claims against the estate and the proceeds coming into the estate from the public auction, collection of money due the estate from notes, etc.; with the final accounting being the most important. This accounting will show the proceeds (if any) after all debts have been satisfied, this amount being distributed to the heirs by the administrator. The names of the heirs, along with their share, are usually given. If real estate was owned, quite often tax receipts are included and will give detailed description of land which may prove useful in deed research.
It should be noted that there are a few instances where the final settlement of an estate (both will and intestate) of a deceased man may not occur until after the death of his wife some years later.

GUARDIANSHIPS

A guardianship of minor children was formed when either one or both parents are deceased. Also, if minor children are heirs to a paternal or maternal grandparents' estate, a guardianship may have been formed. In both cases the names and ages of the minors are usually given, along with a description of heirship.

A person of mature age who is unable to handle his (or her) own affairs may also require the services of a guardian.

The system of filing varies with the county. A guardianship may be filed by numbered cases as the intestate estates are, in many of the early county records, found in the Will Books along with the will records.

GENERAL INDEXING OF PROBATE RECORDS

Again this will vary with the court house system. There may be individual General Indexes to each type of record. However, they may be combined in combinations as follows:— A separate index to wills with a separate combined estate of guardianship index; or, a combined index of wills and estates with a separate index to guardianships. Some of the individual will books are indexed and some are not. The probate court of many counties will have a separate general index to Miscellaneous Records which is an assortment of various records which do not come under the heading of any of the previously mentioned categories.

DECLARATIONS OF INTENTION FOR UNITED STATES CITIZENSHIP (NATURALIZATIONS)

An individual wishing to be naturalized was required to be a resident of the county where he filed his Declaration of Intention for five years preceding the Declaration. Information given in the Declaration was in general:— Name, age, country of previous citizenship, date and port of departure, date and port of entrance. The records are usually found in the Probate Court, although occasionally they may be found in the Common Pleas Court (Clerk of Courts Office). When found in the Probate Court they are frequently found indexed under, "Miscellaneous Records" or bound in individual volumes.

FORMATION OF THE PROBATE COURT FROM THE COMMON PLEAS COURT

Prior to 1852, many of the records now found in the Probate Court; such as estate, guardianship etc. records were part of the Common Pleas (Clerk of Court's Office). With the formation of the Probate Court in 1852 the majority of these records were transferred; however, a few concerning matters of probate etc. were recorded in the Common Pleas Minutes and could not be moved. More detailed information regarding this will be given in a later article on the Common Pleas Court Records.

DESCENDANTS OF GERMAN IMMIGRANT JOHANN LORENTZ HANSEL (HENTZEL) 1776-1968 by Zera Eleanor (Hansell) Howe and William Amel Sausaman. 309 pages (8½x11) including 7 pages Illustrations, plus Complete Index (46 pages). Only 200 copies printed. Soft Back - Price: $10.00. Order from Zera Howe, P. O. Box 146, Medaryville, Indiana 47957. The Hentzel Coat-of-Arms is beautifully illustrated in colors of red, blue, yellow, white and gray. Related Family Lines: FIG, MASON, TIMMONS, TERRELL and SHOEMAKER. Each chapter is a generation of descendants, down through ten (10) generations. References are intermingled with the genealogy, which is written in story form with biographies, interesting events and reproductions of obituaries. The introduction includes, "Ancient History of the Family", an explanation of the Coat-of-Arms and early references. The subject, JOHANN LORENTZ HANSEL, born ca 1700, Palatine, Germany, came to this country at the age of 38 years. Children: Michael, Anna Marie (mar. John Philip Weichard), Philip and Casper. This book is primarily the story of the descendants of the son, Michael. It is exceptionally well prepared and is unique and interesting in that it contains many true stories. The workmanship is excellent.

HOW OHIO COUNTIES GOT THEIR NAMES
(Date in parenthesis is year county was created)

Brown (1818), named for General Jacob Brown, who defeated the British in the Battle of Lundy's Lane.

Butler (1803), named in honor of General Richard Butler, who was killed when forces led by General St. Clair were massacred by Indians.

Carroll (1833), named for Charles Carroll, last surviving signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Champaign (1805), comes from the French word meaning "a plain" and so-called because of the character of its surface.

Clark (1818), named for General George Rogers Clark, who defeated the Indians near Springfield, the county seat.

Clermont (1800), come from French words meaning "clear mountain."

Clinton (1810), named for George Clinton, who was vice president of the United States when it was organized.

Columbiana (1803), a fanciful name derived from the names Columbus and Anna.

Coshocton (1810), is an Indian word meaning "Black Bear Town."

Crawford (1820), named in honor of Colonel William Crawford who was burned at the stake by the Indians nearby.

Cuyahoga (1810), named for the Cuyahoga River. Cuyahoga is an Indian word meaning, "crooked," or "winding stream."

Darke (1809), named for General William Darke, Revolutionary War hero.

Defiance (1815), named for Fort Defiance which was built by General Anthony Wayne.

Delaware (1808), named after the Delaware Indians.

Erie (1838), named for the Erie Indians. The name signifies "the cat" or "the nation of the cats." The Huron tribe called it "Erige or Erische" meaning the "lake of cats." The area was known for its species of wild cats whose pelts the Indians highly prized.
